Beschreibung der Immobilie

Monte Mayor is one of the few addresses on this coast where the setting still leads the architecture, a gated valley of olive groves and cork oak above Benahavís, with white villas set well apart from one another.

To speak of this particular property is to speak not merely of walls and roofs, but of a lifestyle cultivated with the meticulous discernment of a seasoned oenophile inspecting a vintage Rioja.

It is not a house; it is a hymn to harmony, a paean to privacy, serenity, and subtle opulence.

Set amidst the rolling hills of the Costa del Sol, this villa occupies a prime position in the Monte Mayor estate, a gated sanctuary where space is measured not in square meters alone but in the quality of light, the hush of pine-scented breezes, and the grandeur of uninterrupted views.

Here, the plots are generous, the greenery lush, and the landscaping as precise as a Savile Row suit, effortlessly elegant, yet unmistakably deliberate.
