Beschreibung der Immobilie

Some communities feel quiet the moment you drive in, and Montevideo Hills is one of them. Set in El Paraíso, Estepona, with the A7 a short drive away and everyday life sorted just minutes from the door, this semi-detached villa seems to have taken its time aging well.

The full renovation it went through five years ago didn't erase the Andalusian character of the house, it brought it forward. The floors and open spaces keep that sense of a house that actually breathes, and the details sit alongside some very current decisions: smart glass in the living room and kitchen that brings privacy, thermal and acoustic insulation, and energy savings, plus solar panels that ease the monthly bills.

You enter through a hallway that doesn't waste time on introductions and leads straight into the day area. That's where the heart of the house lives: an open, functional kitchen with the kind of warmth only a kitchen that actually gets used has, integrated with a spacious living room w
